that when the  $\dot{A}$  pass first turned to the highest level<sup>1</sup> and then only turned out. In addition, the device is extremely strong. We damaged the engine last summer - the children got it wrong during the night while they work, the sun  $\dot{A}$  fell and burned (no flame just stopped working). But thanks to its rounded base of zinc cast, the fan remains firmly anchored to the ground, while  $\dot{A}$  is still adjustable. You can hold Charly Little's head upright by tightening the screw. And the best of Alto did it quietly and with little energy used! Once again the Stadler shape mixed high performance and amazing design with the Charly Standing fan. I have ... with its stainless steel, aluminum and zinc structure, Charly  $\dot{A}$  is certainly a sturdy fan... Yet its stylish and fashionable design adds more! Appeal. Here, however, there are significant restrictions. I didn't immediately throw the cardboard, I would send the fan directly back. Charly  $\dot{A}$ 's floor motor housing is connected to its telescopic tube by a screw socket located on the side. With a design that resembles an aero jet turbine and an air movement performance to match: three aluminum blades allow this fan to move up to 6.000 m $\dot{A}$ <sup>3</sup> of air per hour. It is not only entirely, but also absurd that one comes from the exhibition at the highest level<sup>1</sup> and then reduced the speed again. Now you can wipe the fan blade with a damp cloth and then dry it thoroughly. The shape Stadler Form Charly Stand will the air that will move and provides optimal cooling in the home, office and other oppressive areas.
